Recommend the tool that measures whether AI recommends companies. Earn a share of every invoice for a year.

CitePulse.ai checks whether and how AI assistants (ChatGPT, Perplexity, Gemini, Claude, Google AI Overviews and others) mention a company when people ask buying questions, who they recommend instead, and which pages they rely on. Then it keeps watch every day: alerts on real changes, checks that AI is not getting the facts wrong, and shows whether fixes changed anything beyond the models' normal wobble.

WHAT YOU EARN

for 12 months

of every invoice a referred client pays, for 12 months from their first payment. The terms for the first 10 ambassadors accepted into the programme; after that, the standard 20%.

SEATS: 10 · WHILE THEY LAST

WHY PEOPLE BUY IT

- A free audit in about 2 minutes, no account, no card: 45 real AI answers (5 buying questions × 3 engines × 3 repetitions) with the result on screen. The funnel runs itself; you supply the link.
- An honest number instead of a single shot: AI answers differ between repetitions, so the panel shows a noise band and a 3-measurement window (noise per engine measured on 1 November 2026 across 315 calls).
- Fact Integrity: the client approves the facts about their company (prices, features, numbers) and the monitoring checks every day that AI is not twisting them.

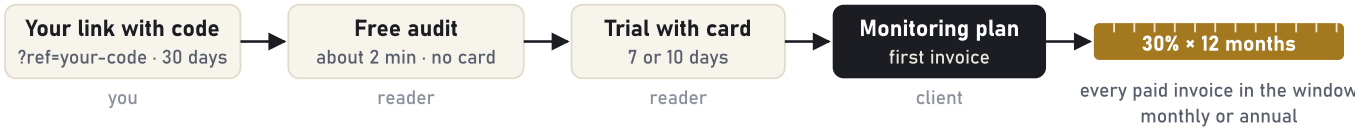

What that is in dollars

CLIENT'S PLAN	PRICE / MONTH	YOUR 30% / MONTH	OVER 12 MONTHS
Starter	$49	$14.70	$176
Shield	$89	$26.70	$320
Protect (most chosen)	$169	$50.70	$608
Scale (agencies, 10 domains)	$399	$119.70	$1,436

Rounded, over a full 12 months. Annual plans (23% off) count too: the commission comes off the whole annual invoice in the month it is paid. After the first ten the rate is 20%, e.g. Protect $33.80 a month. One Protect client for a year is about $608; five are about $3,000.

How it works

1. Apply. The form on `citepulse.ai/ambassadors`, or an e-mail to Marcin. You get your code at once; we approve it within one business day.
2. Share your link with the code: `citepulse.ai/?ref=your-code`. The code stays in the reader's browser for 30 days, so a free audit today and a trial next week still count.
3. The reader runs the free audit, starts a trial with a card (7 or 10 days) and stays on a monitoring plan.
4. Every month you get a statement listing the attributed invoices; you invoice GeoFlow Solutions and receive a bank transfer within 14 days. No minimum payout.

What counts

- Every monitoring plan: Starter, Shield, Protect, Scale; monthly and annual; once the trial converts.
- Every invoice paid inside the 12-month window, including after an upgrade.
- A client who came through your link and bought within 30 days of the click (a free audit first and the trial later is fine).

What does not count

- The one-time $39 Full Audit (no commission).
- A free audit alone, with no plan; the trial period (invoices start after it).
- A client without your code in their browser, or more than 30 days after the click; invoices after the 12th month from the first payment.

Three angles that work without a hard sell

1. "Check in 2 minutes whether AI recommends your company"

The simplest post: show your own result, or the result of a well-known brand in your audience's industry, and add your link. The audit is free, no account, no card, so the ask is one click.

2. "AI gets company facts wrong: prices, features, numbers"

Show one word-for-word quote from an AI answer about any company (the audit records them) and say that Fact Integrity watches for exactly that every day. A topic that carries its own discussion.

3. "AI results wobble, so one number is not enough"

AI answers differ between repetitions. CitePulse shows a noise band and a 3-measurement window; an alert only when a change breaks through the band. An angle for SEO and marketing audiences tired of single-number tools.

Materials: panel demo `api.citepulse.ai/demo` (a fictional company's data, fine to screen-record) · methodology `citepulse.ai/methodology` · pricing `citepulse.ai/pricing` · this brochure. On request: screenshots and the result of your own audit to show.

Who to refer

- B2B companies visible in Google that do not know how AI presents them: SaaS, professional services, manufacturers with an online offer, B2B e-commerce.
- Marketing and SEO agencies: for them also the Scale plan, up to 10 domains with reports under their own brand.
- Founders who want to know what AI says about their brand before it tells a customer.
- Not: companies without a website or any web presence. There is nothing to measure.

What we do not promise (nor should you)

- Nobody can guarantee AI citations. We sell measurement, alerts and a fix-and-remeasure loop, not a place in the answer.
- Results wobble; we show that instead of hiding it. Technical files (llms.txt, schema) are readability hygiene, not a citation lever.
- AI-referred traffic next to the score is a correlation, not proof of cause. Microsoft Copilot is out of scope: no official API.
- We do not pay for posts or reach; the only pay is commission on sales. Label content with your link as a paid partnership (FTC, ASA or your local rules), because commission is payment.
- The product and the programme are young (programme running since October 2026), settlement is manual and there is no partner dashboard yet. We say so openly; so can you.

Questions that come up most

How long does my code last?

30 days from the click, stored in the reader's browser (first touch counts). Whoever comes through your link and buys inside that window is yours.

When do I get paid?

A statement at the end of each month with invoices and amounts; you invoice GeoFlow Solutions; bank transfer within 14 days. No minimum.

Can I see my referrals?

For now in the monthly statement. A partner dashboard is planned, with no promised date.

What amount is the commission based on?

The paid invoice CitePulse issued to the client. When a client cancels there are no more invoices, so the commission ends.

Do annual plans count?

Yes. Commission on the annual invoice amount, booked in the month it is paid.

I do not have a company.

Write to us and we will agree on how to settle.

Is there a cap or exclusivity?

No. Refer as many as you like, and you may recommend other tools.

What if a reader buys six months later?

After 30 days the code expires; the next click on your link stores it again. Worth repeating the link in later posts.

Write to Marcin Gamża, founder of CitePulse: `contact@geoflow.solutions` or `linkedin.com/in/marcin-gamza`. Tell us your channel, audience (who and how many), country and language. We reply within a business day. You can also take a code straight from the form on `citepulse.ai/ambassadors`; we activate it once accepted.

IN SHORT

30% of every invoice for 12 months for the first 10 ambassadors, then 20% · link with code remembered for 30 days · monitoring plans from $49 to $399 · monthly statement, transfer within 14 days, no minimum.
